Testimonials

I'm meeting a lot of really interesting people, people that do similar things to me, and my peers in the executive suite. I get a lot out of this. I'm learning a lot. It's just it's been a fantastic program. – Paul Carbone, CFO, Dunkin' Brands

I think the networking and the ability to go to people and ask them questions and solicit advice is different from any other conference that I've seen before. It's an amazing networking opportunity with 400 executives in a very dynamic setting. It's a really great place to get advice and get all sorts of different ideas in a really connected environment. – Jeff Lowe, VP Sales Marketing, SMART Technologies

I'm privileged to be here. You're in front of some of the top business leaders, and to expose what we do to them and help their businesses, that's what we're really looking to do. The type of individuals you're meeting and you're interacting with are kind of at the top of the game, which is really unique. – Jaycen Thorgeirson, CEO & Founder, UviaUs

What's different is that the C-Suite type of leaders are coming to this conference and collaborating across their functions, company to company, versus keeping that information really tight and siloed. So people can actually learn from each other. The collaboration exchange is really valuable, and I always walk away with new ideas. I love that. – Elisa Steele, President and CEO, Jive Software

I think the attendees and the people that are going to be taking part in this conference are really that upper echelon of people you want to meet, you want to interact with and you want to engage with. – Michael Williams, CMO, The Grand Prix of America, Formula 1
